A hug and a backpack

Heinsburg's Class of '07 will never give up dream

By VICKI BROOKER

Heinsburg Community School's Class of 2007 pledged to "never give up on a dream" at their 2007 farewell ceremonies on Friday, May 25.

Mistress of ceremonies Marie Zayac introduced Jonah Desjarlais, Gabrielle Dion, Jody Stanley and Keneil Stanley, their escorts and families, and a number of special guests.

Frog Lake elder Annie Stanley offered the blessing for the banquet that started off the evening. At the conclusion of the meal, Gabrielle Dion toasted the parents.

"At times, we were frustrated, tired and thought of quitting, but our parents had patience and encouraged us to carry on. We owe much to our parents."

Gary Waskewitch replied to the toast, noting that, "the role of parents is played by many, aunts, uncles and grandparents as well as parents. We can pat ourselves on the back for a job well done, because our children did not give up on a dream."

Bradley Quinney offered a toast to the graduands, joking that, "after all these years of school, you will still have to get up to go to college, this time without your parents to get you up." He wished them well on "the long hard road ahead."

Keneil Stanley toasted the staff for not only the education they have provided, but also for being strong role models for the class.

Sandra Najmeddine gave the reply on behalf of the staff. She recently asked her daughter and son-in-law "why they teach. They said, 'it's about a dream.' Some carry that dream on their sleeve, some deep in their hearts. On behalf of all teachers, I thank you for reminding us never to give up on a dream."

Celebrate Farmer's Day at Stoney Lake

By VICKI BROOKER

Staff Writer

Last summer, Stoney Lake area resident Walter DeSilva got to thinking about the pioneers who had settled the area.

"We're losing the last of our pioneers. They're getting up in age, and will soon be gone, and there's nothing to show that they were here."

DeSilva also saw a need to revive the longtime custom of celebrating Farmer's Day.

"We've lost the tradition of taking the day off to recognize the agricultural community, and second, we need to honour the pioneers from the Stoney Lake area. I felt that should be done on Farmer's Day," DeSilva says, "so there we are."

He spoke to the Stoney Lake Hall Association and the Stoney Lake Stampede Association, "and they were both interested in sponsoring the picnic. We made up a committee with members of both groups."

DeSilva also got MLA Ray Danyluk on board.

"Ray usually hosts his P.C. Constituency Association golf tournament and barbecue in St. Paul, but when he heard our plans, he said he would have his barbecue here on Farmer's Day, and his golf tournament at a different time."

Between the plans developed by the joint committee and the Constituency Association, Friday, June 8 will be a day filled with fun for all ages.

"We know we're competing with some other events, but we hope to have 250 to 300 people here," DeSilva says, adding that he hopes the Farmer's Day picnic "will become an annual event."

The hall and stampede grounds open at 11 a.m., with wagon rides, a petting zoo, face painting and games for children and adults continuing through the afternoon.

A picnic lunch will be served from 12:30 to 1:30, featuring kubasa on a bun and saskatoon pie, as well as other picnic favourites. DeSilva says the lunch is "free to the general public, but we will take donations. All money that's collected will go to help pay for the new children's playground."

The playground equipment is now in place, with only fencing and final touches to be added, and a ribbon-cutting ceremony to officially open the playground is slated for 1:30 p.m. that day.

Adding to the old-fashioned picnic atmosphere, visitors will be able to enjoy 10-cent popcorn and 10-cent ice cream throughout the afternoon.

At 5:00 p.m., MLA Ray Danyluk will dedicate a newly completed monument to the area's settlers. Around the same time, there will be a presentation on the 45-year history of the Stoney Lake Stampede, and readings of the late John Drobot's classic cowboy poetry by his daughter Elena.

Achievement day, auto show highlight busy weekend

By VICKI BROOKER
 Review Staff

Elk Point is gearing up for one of the busiest weekends of the year, with nonstop activities on the calendar for Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Elk Point Chamber of Commerce is once again spearheading their community-wide garage sale, with some of the sales going both Friday and Saturday. The chamber originally planned to offer flea market space, but decided last week to join forces with F. G. Miller High School, which is hosting a 'car boot sale' on Saturday and were happy to accommodate the flea market vendors at their location.

Elk Point 4-H Multi Club will be displaying the results of this year's projects at their annual Achievement Day, starting at 4 p.m. on Friday at the C. G. Baker Arena. Beef project members will be showing off their showmanship and grooming prowess as they lead their steers into the show ring.

On Saturday, the focus is on classic and collectible vehicles, at the Elk Point Auto Club's annual show and shine. The vehicles will be lined up along the Iron Horse Trail staging area for everyone to admire from noon to 4 p.m., and everyone is invited to vote for their favorites in a number of categories.

Something new has been added to Saturday's program, with Elk Point Co-op hosting a fundraiser steak barbecue beginning at 5 p.m., with net proceeds going to help fund the upcoming Elk Point Centennial celebrations. Co-op manager Dwayne Odgaard has 600 steaks on order and volunteers from the Centennial/Canada Day Committee lined up to help with the cooking and setup for the event.

DARE class graduates

BY VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

The largest group of Grade 6 students at Elk Point Elementary School in a number of years celebrated their graduation from the Drug and Alcohol Resistance Education (DARE) Program last Thursday evening.

"It's an important event in our school and for our Grade Sixes," said EPE principal Lorne Young. "This is the biggest DARE class we've ever had." Young noted that the program is "important for our community and our youth."

Andrea Bader and Leigha Bishop led the singing of O Canada before Cst. Jason McFarlane, who instructed the eight-week course, called each class forward in turn to recite Facts learned in the course. Five students from each class were also selected to read the essays they had written at the conclusion of the course.

Some excerpts from Grade 6A essays:

"I am going to make a good choice in my life and will stay away from drugs and violence."

"I have learned many skills including how to say no... I hope my classmates and I can be good examples to others."

"I have learned to make better choices..."

"I have learned to resist peer pressure. I have learned to be in charge."

"Drugs can do more harm to you than you think."

Grade 6B students said: "There are over 200 known chemicals in tobacco. That's why I will say no."

"Alcohol slows down your brain and your body. I would make the right choice."

"DARE taught me what to do and what not to do."

"I learned how to stay drug-free, DARE taught me to walk away and say no."

"It will help me when I get older. I will never drink because it causes problems."

And from Grade 6C: "Define, Assess, Resist, Evaluate... Be smart, not brain-dead."

"I have learned so many things in DARE. I don't want to die young, do you?"

"DARE helps you not to make the wrong choices. I value my family's health and wellbeing."

"All the stuff I learned in DARE will help me not to hang out with the wrong crowd."

"I'll be sure to use all the facts I learned. I pledge to my friends and family that I will never do drugs."

School board trustee Darrell Youngmans told the students and their families that he feels "DARE is a very important program. The board believes strongly in it and allots funding for it. Unfortunately, it's not available in all of the division's schools because there aren't enough instructors. It's another tool in our parental toolbox."

Youngmans cautioned the students that, "it's easy to make promises now. At your Grade 12 grad, I want you to remember these promises. I hope the school and your family have given you the tools to make those choices."

Mayor Parrish Tung was unable to attend, but sent the message that, "what we do in our schools has an impact on our community."

"We have good things happening here," Principal Young added, expressing the mayor's thanks to the school and the RCMP for conducting the program.

"Mr. Youngmans hit it right on the nose," Young continued. "You're not always going to be able to say no, but you're going to be able to think things through. There are so many things you don't get a second chance with. Parents, we really need to work together. I hope the Grade 6s will be leading the way to a better community."

Cst. McFarlane, coming forward to present certificates to each DARE grad, emphasized that, "if the program can touch one kid, it's worth it. I thoroughly enjoyed teaching the course. You kids are awesome."

CENTENNIAL FACTS....

Cooking with gas since 1949

A suggestion made 60 years ago by Dr. A. G. Ross to the Elk Point Chamber of Commerce resulted in natural gas service being brought to the community. Dr. Ross and Paul Stepa were delegated at that very meeting to explore the possibilities.

The two immediately began to inform the community about the proposed plan and to sell shares, with good response in the village and surrounding area. The committee obtained a 20,000 acre lease, and in 1948, their first well was drilled on William Andrishak's farm by Withers Drilling Co. Ltd.

When the well proved successful, Elk Point Gas Company Ltd. was formed, with Dr. Ross as president and Stepa as temporary secretary-treasurer. William Soldan proceeded to build a small digger which could be used to make trenches for pipe supplied by St. Paul Foundry.

A plebiscite was held, and on March 1, 1949, the franchise was awarded to the gas company.

A second well was drilled on the Babcock farm but proved unsuccessful, with the company selling more debentures to cover the resulting loss. A third and very successful well was drilled on the Slywka farm.

Paul Petrosky was hired as secretary and William Soldan as maintenance man soon after the franchise was awarded, with Petrosky remaining in that role until he retired in 1975. Soldan suffered a stroke in 1953 and was replaced by his son Ed. Dr. Ross remained as president of the company until his death in 1968.

Next week, we'll explore another facet of Elk Point's past 100 years.

WAY BACK WHEN...

Proms, pre-election and a penny-farthing

HERE'S THE NEWS THAT MADE THE HEADLINES OF THE LAKELAND REVIEW AND THE ELK POINT REVIEW FOR THE WEEK OF MAY 29 IN...

1987

"We are such things as dreams are made of..." was the motto of the 42-member Class of 1987 as they held their graduation ceremonies at F. G. Miller High School, with Kathy Mistol and Cathy Buck as valedictorians and 1967 student's union president Walter Ference presenting a gift from the student's union to his 1987 counterpart, daughter Wanda.

1992

Steve Andrishak proudly displayed his 121-year-old penny-farthing bicycle and his 1903 Model A Ford at the Elk Point Auto Club Show and Shine, right next to a shiny new 1992 Harley Davidson Electraglide. Elk Point Public Library faced funding problems which meant they must raise at least $6,000 to prevent cutting hours and services to a minimum.

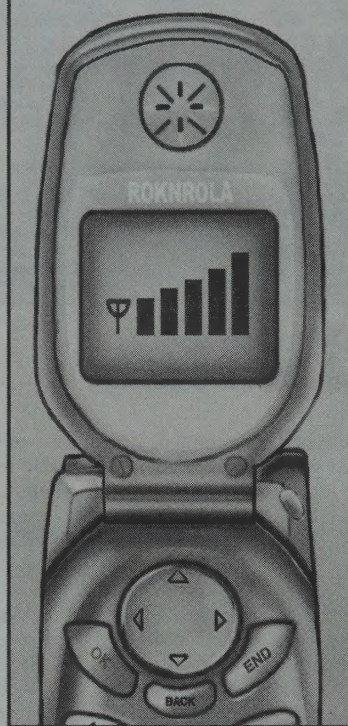

1997

Federal election hopefuls John Williams, Les Parsons, Hansa Thalesvar, Valerie Morrow and Leon Benoit faced the voters in a pre-election forum hosted by the Elk Point Chamber of Commerce. Nine Grade 12 graduands and 10 Grade 9 promees were honoured at Frog Lake School, with the graduation theme, "Past, Present, Future" and the traditional presentation of eagle feathers to each graduand by members of the Band Council.

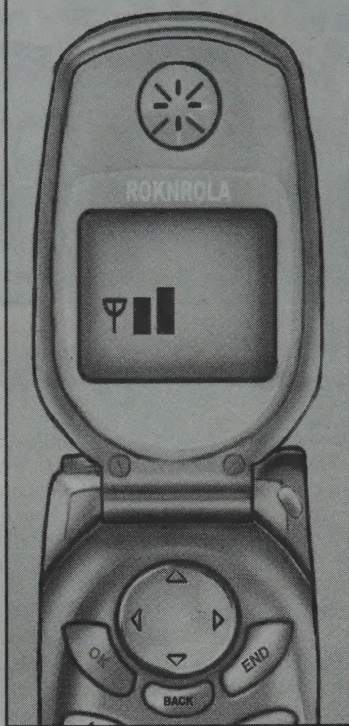

2002

Tuu Times made it seven times that they had won the Jan Frisby Memorial slowpitch tournament, defeating the Lac La Biche MJS squad in only six innings. Three Elk Point restaurants agreed to go smoke-free for Would No-Tobacco Day.

The miracle

Have you ever wondered what would happen if someone was no longer available to do something you were used to them doing on the job? It probably wouldn't be a big deal if it was something that wasn't important. But if it was important, the question then becomes, "Now what?"

The work we do every day in our jobs is important. From the book, "A Third Serving of Chicken Soup for the Soul," there is a good story that illustrates how important some people are to us. The story is called, "The Miracle Bridge."

The Brooklyn Bridge that spans the river between Manhattan and Brooklyn is simply an engineering miracle. In 1883, a creative engineer, John Roebling, was inspired by an idea for this spectacular bridge project. However, bridge-building experts told him to forget it, it was just not possible. Roebling convinced his son, Washington, and up-and-coming engineer, that the bridge could be built. The two of them conceived the concept of how it could be accomplished and how to overcome the obstacles. Somehow they convinced bankers to finance the project. Then with unharnessed excitement and energy, they hired their crew and began to build their dream bridge.

The project was only a few months underway when a tragic on-site accident killed John Roebling and severely injured his son. Washington was severely brain-damaged, unable to walk or talk. Everyone thought the project would have to be scrapped, since the Roeblings were the only ones who understood how the bridge could be built. Though Washington Roebling was unable to move or talk, his mind was as sharp as ever. One day as he lay in his hospital bed,

from the FCSS desk

an idea flashed in his mind as to how to develop a communication code. All he could move was one finger, so he touched the arm of his wife with that finger. He tapped out the code to communicate to her what she was to tell the engineer who continued building the bridge. For 13 years,

Washington tapped out his instructions with one finger until the spectacular Brooklyn Bridge was finally completed.

What is so special about the Brooklyn Bridge? It is one of the oldest suspension bridges in the United States, and stretches 5,989 feet over the East River connecting the New York City boroughs of Manhattan and Brooklyn.

On completion, it was the largest suspension bridge in the world and the first steel-wire suspension bridge. Construction began January 3, 1870. The Brooklyn Bridge was completed 13 years later and was opened for use on May 24, 1883. An interesting protest took place. The Irish workers were dissatisfied that opening day coincided with Queen Victoria's birthday. So there you go.

Anyway, Roebling designed a bridge and truss system that was six times as strong as he thought it needed to be. Because of this, the Brooklyn Bridge is still standing when many of the bridges built around the same time have vanished into history and have been replaced. The bridge, in allowing thousands to cross, has taken on a special importance in times of crisis and has become a symbol of New Yorkers' resilience. For example, on Sept. 11, 2001, with attacks on the World Trade Centre, the bridge was used by people in Manhattan to leave the city after subway service was suspended.

From this historical bit of information about an engineering miracle, there seems to be a message of the importance of miracles that may not have happened if the one assigned to work on an assignment hadn't wanted to complete the task even under difficulty. Thus, a big thank you goes out to all workers who complete their tasks. Thank you, everyone.

C.O.W. comes to the library

By VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

The Centre for Family Literacy's Classroom on Wheels, more commonly known as "the C.O.W. Bus," rolled into Elk Point last Thursday, and spent the day entertaining and educating youngsters and their parents.

The C.O.W. Bus staff brought along a literary legacy which will stay in the community: a box filled with 47 books and a set of CDs, all aimed at promoting family literacy, which will now become part of the library's extensive selection of children's materials.

"We're promoting literacy to parents, grandparents and caregivers," C.O.W. Bus staff member Terry Katerenchuk said in making the presentation to Elk Point's Deputy Mayor Dwayne Yaremkevich. The bus is funded by Alberta Advanced Education, Petro Canada, the United Way and Success By 6.

The bus visited Frog Lake on Wednesday, and was heading back to Edmonton when they left Elk Point. Katerenchuk said the bus and others like it "go all over Alberta. Communities call us up, and we try to fit them in. We're booked up right through September and October."

The County of St. Paul Library Board stopped in Elk Point on their annual tour of libraries, just in time to learn about the C.O.W. Bus. Katerenchuk and her fellow crew members Florence Ellis and Gina Gariano proudly showed off books made from discarded calendars, and other simple-to-make educational material as well as their large collection of books, puzzles and toys designed to help parents incorporate literacy activities into their children's lives.

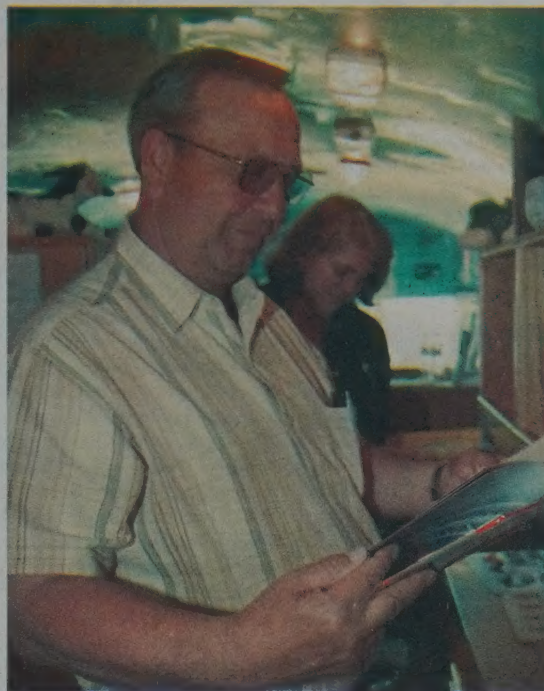

The bus was a beehive of activity throughout its visit, with tots eagerly climbing aboard to hear stories, sing songs and play games with the facilitators while their parents browsed through the books or joined in the fun.

This was the second visit to Elk Point for the C.O.W. Bus, with a number of repeat visitors coming back for new ideas and inspiration.

It's story-song time on the C.O.W. Bus as Terry Katerenchuk and some young visitors sing "this Old Man" and put the appropriate items in the old man's numbered pockets.

PRAYER OF THE BLESSED VIRGIN (never known to fail)

Oh, most beautiful flower of Mt. Carmel, fruitful vine, splendor of Heaven, Blessed Mother of the Son of God, Immaculate Virgin, assist me in my necessity. Oh Star of the Sea, help me and show me here you are my mother. Oh Holy Mary, Mother of God, Queen of Heaven and Earth, I humbly beseech you from the bottom of my heart to succor me in my necessity (make request). There are none that can withstand your power. Oh Mary conceived without sin, pray for us who have recourse to thee (three times). Holy Mary I place this prayer in your hands (three times). Say this prayer three consecutive days and then you must publish and it will be granted to you. L.L.

A silent auction is another feature of the day, with proceeds going toward the playground and DeSilva says donations of auction items are welcome.

The Lac La Biche - St. Paul P.C. Constituency Association barbecue gets underway at 6:00 p.m., with advance tickets available. The evening will feature jam-boree-style music by local entertainers, along with a live auction of "three or four items," DeSilva says. Local auctioneers will be calling for bids on an original painting of a 1992 wagon train by Cecilia DeSilva, a moonlight cruise of Stoney Lake for two that evening with Ray and Lorraine Danyluk, and a pair of tickets to an upcoming Kenny Chesney and Faith Hill concert.

The C.O.W. Bus left a very special gift for the library. Librarian Daphne Schnurer and Deputy Mayor Dwayne Yaremkevich accepted a 'legacy library' box filled with books and CDs aimed at promoting family literacy.

Winless weekend for Cards

By DOUG BASSETT

Review Sports

Rome wasn't built in a day. The same can be said about the new Cards ball team. It's going to take some time; this is a project in the making. Not a whole lot to write home about this past weekend, the Cards going 0 for 3, losing all three games, to Camrose, Round Hill and Vegreville when they played in the Big Egg. Maybe someday one of these guys will be good enough to play in the Big Apple, but for right now it's back to the drawing board, for some more practice, practice, practice. Ryan "Little M" MacDonald and John "the Hammer" Schmitt both hitting triples, the highlight of the weekend.

Good luck this week to the boys and girls from F. G. Miller who will be traveling to Medicine Hat to compete in track and field provincials.

And for all you golfers out there, every Wednesday night it's men's night at the Elk Point Golf and country, 6:30 shotgun start with steak or rib supper after and weekly prize sponsors

And now for the K.A. Campbell quote of the week "You can learn little from victory. You can learn everything from defeat. Last weeks answer to - "Keep you eye clear and hit them where they ain't." -Wee Willie Keeler. Do you have any scoops? Please email them to sportshound 007@hotmail.com

Another good season for Further Ed

By VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

Elk Point Further Education coordinator Verona Lea Flanders reported a good spring season, with 14 courses held, when the Further Education Council met last week. Another four courses have been postponed until fall due to scheduling difficulties.

"I have a lot more 'make and take' courses planned for fall," Flanders told the council. "They are very popular."

She also hopes to get courses going in the Fishing Lake area, where some interest has been expressed.

Heinsburg coordinator Marie Zayac said she had not had sufficient registrations to run any courses this past season, but she has high hopes for a soap making class in the fall.

Flanders recently attended a regional further education meeting, and says other councils have similar problems with insufficient registrations to run some of their courses.

The results from this winter's survey have now been tabulated, and from 24 surveys returned, Flanders reported that 23 of those surveyed knew about Elk Point Further Ed, and 17 of those had both taken courses in the past and referred others to do so.

"People do know we're here," she said.

Fitness topped the list of courses respondents would like to see, with arts, crafts and hobbies and computer related subjects coming a close second and third. Safety and first aid, health, languages, agriculture and literacy also received some interest.

Time constraints were seen as the most common barrier to taking courses, with non-availability of the desired courses, need for child care and distance to travel also listed as reasons courses could not be taken.

Suggestions for courses included mosaics, new crafts, computer use for beginners wishing to increase their skills, digital photography, old time dancing, sign language, German, Norwegian and Ukrainian language, instruction in setting up power point presentations and mechanics for women and young adults.

Flanders reported that a total of $1,021.46 in books had been purchased for Elk Point Public Library by Further Ed, and that a new wish list of possible topics has been drawn up. "Anything that deals with community issues, seniors, health and wellness and employability can be funded," she noted.

The council approved Flanders' request to purchase a new computer for the Further Ed office. The current model is outdated and can not cope with incoming forms and paperwork that is now sent exclusively via the Internet.

Information has been received that in 2008, it will be possible to use a portion of grant funding for capital purchases, and the council discussed possible priorities. Flanders hopes that some of the funds could go toward needed building repairs, and noted, "We've been making do," because funding has not been available for such projects as repairing the front steps of the building and insulating the plumbing to prevent ongoing problems with frozen lines.

Young volunteers help out Lions

By VICKI BROOKER
Review Staff

Elk Point and District Lions needed all the help they could get with this weekend's Jan Frisby Memorial Slowpitch tournament. Many of the Lions members were already committed to other events on the busy weekend, which left the remainder very short-handed to host the annual event, which raises money for cancer research in memory of Jan Frisby, a slowpitch enthusiast who lost her life to cancer a number of years ago.

The Frisby family is always on hand for the tournament, and this year, some of the youngest generation - Charly, Dusty and Jessie - were willing helpers with grounds cleanup, assisted by their friends Katie Magosse, Cody Gadowski, Kevin and Mason Smith.

Lyle Frisby donated his time to umpire throughout the weekend, along with Jacques and Felina DeMoissac and Lyndon Krankowsky. Josh Gadowski harrowed the ball fields after games, and Dallan Wandler and his crew did a great job of keeping everyone fed.

The "A" final of the 14-team tourney came to an exciting end, according to Justin Conrad of the winning Xtreme team, who reported that Amanda Gervais made a clutch hit in the bottom of the seventh inning to bring in the tying run after the opposing Swamp Donkeys walked one of Xtreme's key hitters.

Class of '07 will never give up on a dream

Following a brief intermission, the graduands marched slowly to the stage as Clifton Cross sang "Never Give Up on a Dream."

Keneil Stanley gave the invocation, giving thanks for family, friends and community, and "the opportunity to reach our dreams."

The traditional passing of the school colours saw Jody Stanley pass the framed eagle feather to Becky Quinney.

The audience enjoyed a slide show of the class in their younger years, before Marjorie Scott brought greetings and gifts from Heinsburg Community Club. Frog Lake elders Annie Stanley, Dewey Dion, William Singer and John Stanley presented ceremonial eagle feathers to each graduand, and Frog Lake councillor Rose Stanley presented gifts from the band council.

Superintendent of Schools Doug Yeo presented scrolls, and assured the graduands, "you did accomplish some of your dreams, and now you look forward to the future. It's a proud night for us all, and we encourage you to keep going."

Jody Stanley gave the Class of '07 address, noting, "each one of us has been part of this class for a different length of time. One of us has spent all her school years at Heinsburg, one of us joined the group in September. We've all enjoyed the years that we've spent here." The four were "both happy and sad ... happy because we now have reached our goal of completing high school and sad because this comfortable, safe and predictable time of our life is almost over." Faced with "individual goals that are forever changing, there are so many career opportunities to choose from," she hoped she and her classmates "may overcome every and any obstacles that stand in our ways," and in years to come, "may we celebrate many more joyous occasions such as this."

School board trustee Darrell Younghans asked for a round of applause for principal Carl Christensen, who will be retiring at the end of June. He congratulated the newly-elected Frog Lake councillors, and noted that, "the Class of 2007 couldn't have happened without the cooperation of the Frog Lake Board of Education." Younghans said the class "may seem small, but four is not the smallest class we have had. In 2001, there was one. Quality means more than quantity. I hope we as a school have provided you with the skills you need. You will now have to provide the determination to succeed. You and you alone are responsible for the choices you make. They are your choices, and you must suffer the consequences."

Rose Stanley spoke on behalf of Frog Lake's chief and council. "We all go through life contemplating choices, some hard, some easy. You have proved to us that no matter what life throws us, you can deal with it. Now your life begins a new path. It is up to us as parents and leaders to respect the decisions you make. As you get older, you will come to realize that people are there for you. Look to them for the support you need."

Frog Lake director of education Lynn Stanley told the class, "your parents, family and friends guide and inspire you. Cherish and maintain these bonds, they are your support as you go forward. Your dreams and visions carry hope forward. Let your mind be opened up to see the signposts along the way. Go forward with courage. The decisions you make will shape your future. May you find the path that will shape your life in a positive and meaningful way."

Former Heinsburg student Kimberly Crookedneck sang a vocal solo, "I Hope You Dance."

Glenda Bristow from St. Paul Education central office told the class, "today is the celebration of your achievements, your farewell. Your high school years will soon be over. As adults, you will be doing things that really matter." Presenting each with a personalized backpack, she requested they "carry it with you in the journey toward your dream." Handing each a letter 'I', she asked them to fill the pack with the essential skills of interpretation, instrumentation, interaction and introspection, and "do what you love to do, be good at what you choose to do, and dream big."

Graduand Jonah Desjarlais presented gifts of appreciation to Bristow, Crookedneck and Najmeddine.

Zayac thanked the class for "letting me share your day. You've been an awesome class." She thanked the parents for fundraising and decorating for the ceremonies and for their cooperation.

Principal Christensen gave the closing remarks for the ceremony "honouring four very special individuals. They are on the verge of attaining one of their goals in life and moving on to the next stage." He had words of advice. "We have only one life to live. Our time is now. Live it to the fullest. Participate, don't sit and watch it go by. Each of us is unique, each of us is given special gifts. Our task is to determine what gifts we have and to establish our hopes, aspirations and dreams. Never give up on authentic dreams, find a vocation or career that is right for you. Be optimistic. Have a wonderful, exciting, happy, productive, enriching, fulfilling and productive life."
